

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

th' poetry asylum Project for National Poetry Month (April 2016)

subTerreanean 6

Think of this project as an open mic
in a DIY card-cover handmade photocopied stapled booklet.
Instead of 5 minutes, you have one page - front and back.

The Project: To create 200 copies of an anthology primarily from poets and writers who have participated in the Poetry Asylum's monthly open mic. Area visual artists and writers are also welcome to contribute. Each contributor will get 2 copies of the booklet.

One hundred copies will be distributed at the literary magazine event at Artspaces on April 29, and remaining copies will be sold to reimburse production costs.

Guidelines:

1. Fill your one page, front and back, with:

Your original poetry or poetic prose, flash fiction, brilliant thoughts, visual art.

Do it on your computer, write it by hand, collage it. Decorate it. Doodle in the margins.

Leave at least a 1" to 1.25" margin on the left side of your 1st side( front) and on the right side of your 2nd side (back.) That's where we'll be stapling.

2. Make sure your name is on it somewhere. Include a little bio of yourself on the page, if you like.

3. Make 200 black/white copies of your page.*
(Color is expensive, consider using colored or textured paper)

4. Turn in your original page as well as the 200 copies to Zann Carter on or before Thursday, March 17 (that is the March poetry reading night.) They can be brought to the reading or dropped off at ArtsIlliana (23 N. 6th Street, Terre Haute.) any weekday 10 - 4 p.m.

5. Come to the April 21 poetry reading OR the April 29 Literary Launch at ArtSpaces to receive your copies..

6. We (Sarah Bartusch, BP Morton & Zann Carter) reserve the right to respectfully decline pages that, based solely on our own subjective sensibilities, are outrageously vulgar or offensive. Edgy is cool, taking us off a cliff is something we're not up for. If you have any doubts, we'll be happy to look at your page before you make copies.

7. Copyright will remain with individual authors.

DEADLINE: Thursday March 17, 2016

* Big Picture (608 North 13th Street) has again offered us a special copying price : .05 per page includes copying both sides! 200 pages should be about $10 plus tax. B/w only at this price.

To take advantage of the special price, you must get your page into them no later than the week of March 7-11.

Be sure to tell them it's for th' poetry asylum Poetry Project.

If they are busy, you may have to leave your order for later pickup.

Project Co-ordinators: Zann Carter, BP Morton, Sarah Bartusch
